DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 11-15 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.
2. Applicant's election of claims 1-10 in the reply filed on 6-26-2006 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1751

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over EP (075,665).

EP '665 discloses a personal cleansing composition packaged in a container that is dispensed through an outlet for lather formation (col. 1, lines 45-58 and col. 2, lines 3-12). EP '665 teaches that said cleansing composition comprises surfactants such as soaps (col. 2, lines 25-32). See also figure 2.

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

Art Unit: 1751

In the alternative, if the above listed claims do not anticipate the claimed invention, it would have been nonetheless obvious to one of ordinary skilled in the art to combine the components to specifically teach the claimed soap product because EP '665 teaches the dispenser, container the a soap surfactants that generates lather.

8. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over McCue et al (5,403,587).

McCue et al disclose a disinfectant and sanitizing composition comprising 0.02 to 5.0% essential oils, 0.02 to 5.0% organic solvent, 0.75 to 10% surfactant and balance water (col. 3, lines 1-29). McCue et al further teach that said surfactants include sodium salt of coco-fatty acid soaps (Norfox Coco powder) see col. 4, lines 33-35.

Furthermore, said compositions include other optional ingredients such as solubilizers, fragrances and antimicrobial agents (col. 4, lines 52-61). With respect to the dispensing systems, McCue et al teach that said ready to use dispensing systems include liquid forms of pump spray bottles, squeeze bottles or pump spray bottles to produce a pump mechanism (col. 5, lines 44-54).

As this reference teaches all of the instantly required it is considered anticipatory.

In the alternative, McCue et al is silent with respect to the solids contents and the alkali content, however one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made could reasonably assume that the specific soap product, Norfox Coco Powder, would inherently meet those limitations because applicant's suggest, the his specification, that said soap product is a preferred ingredient (applicant's specification page 5, line 23).

Accordingly, the claims are suggested by the teachings of McCue et al.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 1-10 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending

Application No. 10/852,591. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they overlap in subject matter pertaining to dispensing surfactant systems comprising surfactants and other adjunct ingredients..

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
